

Mine! contains many stories that would be even more engaging if you could see the relevant photos and videos. Unfortunately, as we described in Chapter 3, ownership gridlock makes it difficult and costly to “clear” the rights. To stay on the right side of the law and provide you a helpful guide to supplement your reading, please find below links that take you to the images embedded in on-point stories.

If you want to see what a Knee Defender looks like, click on the “Knee Defender” link in the Introduction section below. Curious what Hayashi and Popov, the dueling claimants for the Barry Bonds baseball look like, click on their link below in the Chapter 3 section.
